"Our whole team that is here is just so impressed with the professionalism of the students and the enthusiasm for the product, NetSuite itself. To see it first-hand, it's just unbelievable and we are really impressed."
-Mark Bidwell, NetSuite

"Sales makes the world go 'round. Sales is an honorable profession. And sales is the ultimate job of accountability."
-Greg Williams,
State Farm Insurance

"There are outstanding students country-wide and they all seem to converge here every year. This provides us the opportunity to come out and find the local talent and, most importantly, these are people that have chosen sales as a career."
-Adam Boston, Liberty Mutual

"We are here looking to grow our sales force. We are looking for young, bright, entry-level sales associates to assist Standard Register in all 50 states."
-Jim Mullen, Standard Register

"The biggest advantage [of the NCSC] is the amount of people that are here from each company."
-Ogden Hansford
Western Carolina University

"The NCSC is probably the highest quality of any career fair that I go to, probably because of the year-round work that the coordinators put into it. We are truly finding the best sales students in the country."
-Mike Brooks, EMC

"This is the best of the best as far as career opportunities go. At UT (University of Toledo) we get a lot of financial companies, but here you have everything."
-Brandy Gillen,
University of Toledo

"One thing that was so impressive to me and my team is the enormous dedication and commitment that we saw from the faculty as well as the commitment and preparation of the students. There were just so many [students] that you just want to hire them all!"
-Bob Sherrer, Tom James
