

SCHOOL OF ACCOUNTANCY

At the Coles College of Business School of Accountancy, we prepare students for the lofty expectations of today's business community. With undergraduate and graduate degree programs that are separately accredited by AACSB-International, we strive to fulfill our mission and provide a high quality accounting education to a diverse student group of future accounting professionals and leaders.

Our graduates possess a skill set that allows them to make an impact from the very onset of their career with knowledge, focus, insight, and clarity. They are prepared with a curriculum that covers accounting and taxation, of course, but it also includes the study of management, data analytics, auditing, and information systems. This well-rounded education gives our students the skills and tools that companies and organizations want in their employees. Upon graduation, they are consistently sought after by some of the best and biggest names in the accounting industry.

The talented and experienced faculty in our program work to influence the accounting profession through relevant research and professional engagement. In addition to contributions to the accounting profession, that engagement is critical to the development of our graduates. The highly qualified professionals that emerge from the Coles School of Accountancy stand ready for the challenge presented by the modern marketplace at the local, national, and global level.
