

JUNE 2021

Colleagues,

It has been a pleasure and a privilege to be the Interim Director of the Leven School over the past nearly two years. Unfortunately for all of us, the defining event of this period was the Coronavirus pandemic which necessitated major adjustments in the lifestyles, teaching modalities and interactions (with students and other stakeholders) among all of us. To your credit, you all stepped up and made the necessary adjustments and dealt adeptly with the anxiety, inconvenience, and uncertainty that it created. Despite the disruptions, we achieved a lot as a unit during the past two years, a testament to your hard work and tenacity. I wanted to offer my thanks to you all for being patient, understanding and considerate during this period.

Now with the virus seemingly under control and with the opening of the economy, we appear to be at the dawn of a new era that portends great possibilities going forward. We also have Steve Phelan our new Director taking over on July 1. I welcome him and wish him success in leading the Leven School to great success, achievements, and commanding heights in the years ahead.
