Zippia Shines Spotlight on Hospitality Program

Online career research site Zippia recently asked leaders from several university hospitality programs – including our very own Melih Madanoglu – to speak about the industry's future. Melih, who serves as the Michael A. Leven Endowed Chair and Professor – spoke about the impact of COVID-19 on hospitality. He shared a series of thoughtful insights, such as acknowledging it may be as much as three years for a full recovery and discussing how cities focusing on outdoor tourism haven't suffered as much as those catering to business travelers. Melih's comments appeared alongside representatives from the University of New Orleans, Temple University, and Stockton University, which helps our new program gain a national audience. ## The Hospitality Industry's Road to Recovery Engagement Panel

The Hospitality Management major held its first student-industry engagement panel on Wednesday, October 23rd. The panel was a resounding success as over 100 attendees got an opportunity to learn about the current status of the industry and its potential for their careers. The panel afforded students the opportunity to interact with industry executives and ask industry and career related questions. The panel comprised three executives from different organizations:

- Andrea Daniels, Director of Distribution and Channel Strategy,
Inter Continental Hotel Group, LLC
- Andrew Rubinacci, Executive Vice President & Chief Commercial Officer,
Omni Hotels & Resorts
- Chris Hardman, Director of Governmental Affairs and Membership,
Georgia Hotel and Lodging Association
